

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE - SAVE THE DATE

TUESDAY, MAY 17, 2016

STATEHOUSE ATRIUM

PUBLIC HEALTH & LIABILITY

FRACKING AND OHIO'S FUTURE

A one-day conference for legislators, regulators, healthcare providers and community members on unconventional shale gas development in Ohio and its environmental and public health impacts

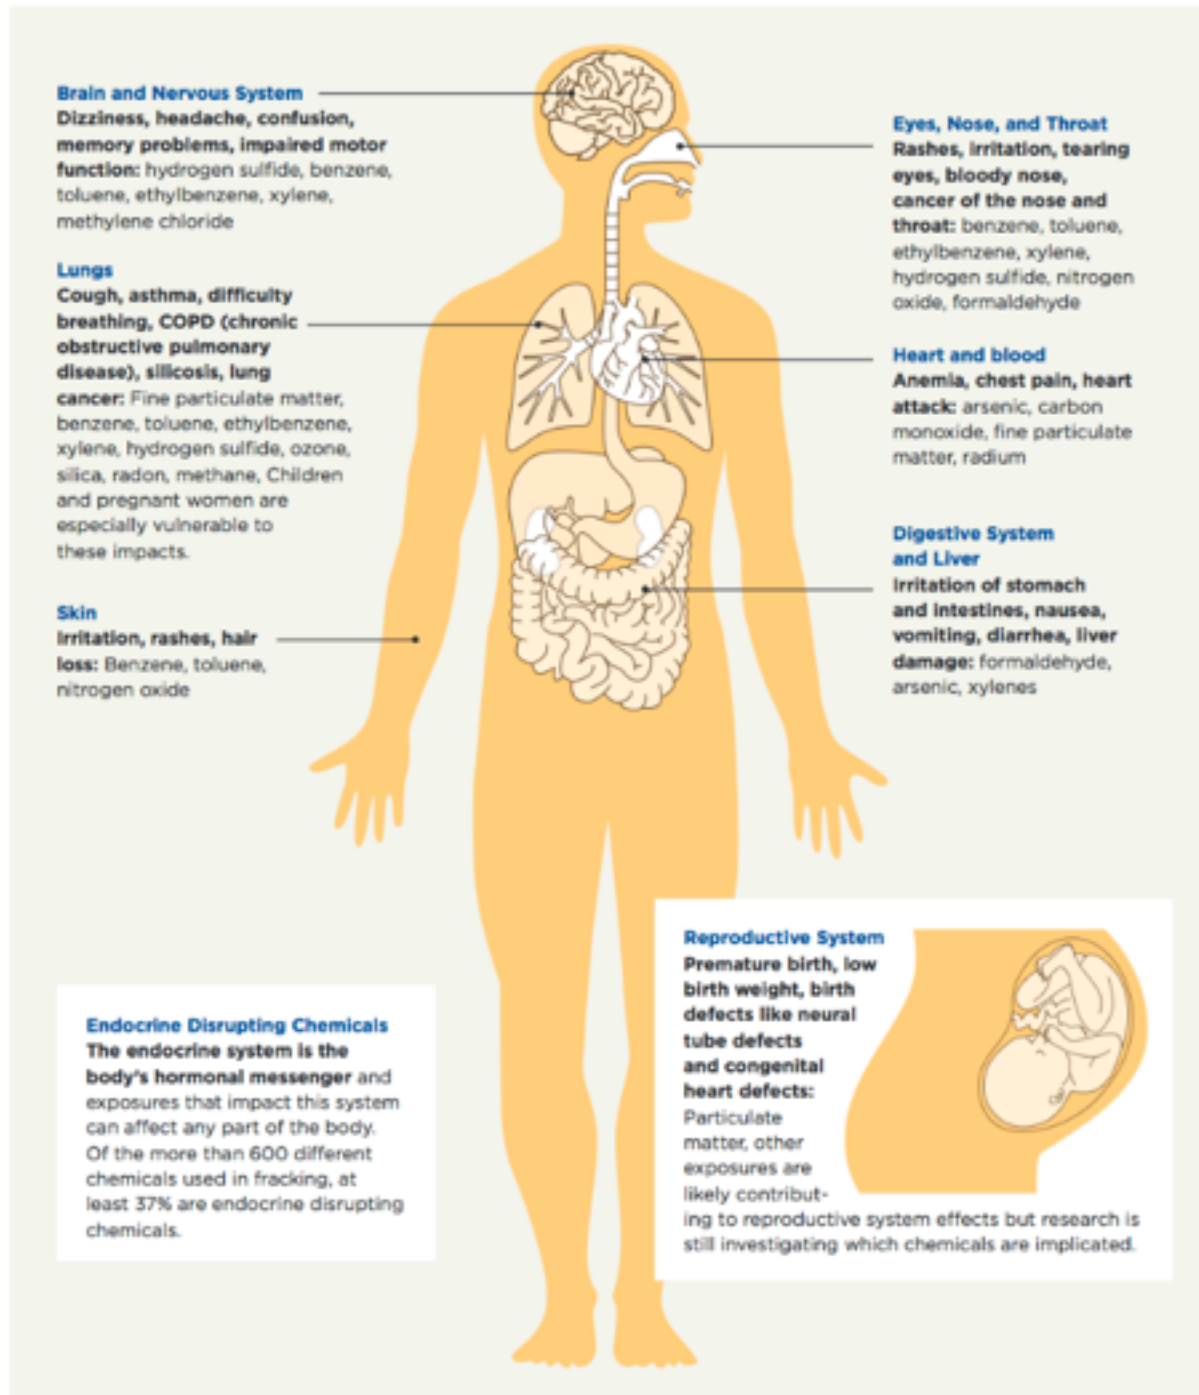

With special presenters: Dr. Julie Weatherington-Rice, Raina Rippel, SW PA Environmental Health Project, Associate Professor Erin Haynes, University of Cincinnati, & Professor James O'Reilly, University of Cincinnati, author of "The Law of Fracking" and Dr. Peter Nara

Presented by

FIGURE 1
Health Effects of Chemicals Associated with Oil and Gas Development

This image indicates the common symptoms and health impacts known to be linked to chemicals associated with unconventional oil and gas development, including some of the chemicals captured in air samples as part of this project.